

Aura and Destiny

Audeo has a card system called Aura that is resolved by a set of rules called Destiny.

Each aura card has not only a type (Protean, Shadow, and Brilliance), but a number value (1, 2, 3) and a suit (clubs, spades, hearts, diamonds). This means there is a set of 3 types X 3 values X 4 suits = 36 cards. That is enough for three players. If playing with four, five, or six you'll need two such sets. For a crazy game with seven to nine you'll need three (though I wouldn't recommend such a game! :D).

You can construct a deck of these cards using plastic protective sleeves, this print out: ?, and three decks of normal playing cards trimmed to contain only Ace, 2, and 3 from each suit.
