Imagine without the foreground mountains... or maybe there IS a mountain range somewhere in the Great City: http://fc09.deviantart.net/fs29/f/2008/057/0/8/Fantasy_City___Closer_look_by_MiG_05.jpg

Tower Neighborhood

A pinnacle neighborhood built directly covering an entire heights neighborhood:

Same with bridge to another heights area:

View from the Pinnacles

Oh Yes, this is totally a scene from one of the pinnacles of the city:

Stormy Pinnacles

A storm brews amongst the pinnacles:

Rooftop Rise

A heights district raised up above the rooftops:

Upper Mid Strata

A good perspective showing rooftops, roofs, and chasms:

Even better: <http://lordoffog.deviantart.com/gallery/26931165#/d37s0kn>

Trickle-down Aquatics

An evening view of a water feature as it cascades down from a heights neighborhood, down to the rooftops, and down into a chasm amongst the roofs:

Roof Strata Light

On bright days, the roof strata can be quite well lit like this:

Roof strata interiors can, however, also be dim, even when there are skylights present:

Life in the Chasms

A little too high-tech looking, but structurally spot on:

Warrens Cavern

Sometimes the warrens open up into large spaces. Here's a very nice warrens neighborhood. Please ignore the blimp. Note the chasms above: <http://lordoffog.deviantart.com/gallery/26931165#/d48xmdy>

Tumbledown Shop

Down in the underneath, this was once a prosperous shop in the sun some centuries ago:

<http://browse.deviantart.com/?qh=§ion=&q=underground+ruin#/d4oasvw>

But some of these ancient alcoves are still occupied, down in the dark, like this shop:

The Way Down

Entering the Depths, most everything is in a state of crumbling decay:

<http://browse.deviantart.com/?q=underground%20ruin&order=9&offset=24#/d2fq7ry>

Some people head into the Depths searching for adventures:

Depths Stalls

Imagine ancient spells of light still persist in what were once stalls of a marketplace:

Old Temple

Often the Depths have standing water that comes down from above during rainstorms or just as the result of sewage being shunted below:

Into the Earth

Below the city depths are the deeps, places that were actually under the original city. This place was a mine: <http://browse.deviantart.com/?qh=§ion=&q=underground#/d4ae7g3>
