Introduction

This is the interactive, developmental part of the gaslight wiki. Things under here can be read and written by the client and these pages exist as a user space to allow active, easy development of the system. Here are the areas under this section that are in development.

Directories

Each of these are directories into lists of page resources for the client.

- skins. Skins (think themes) for panes inside the client.
- science. Science rules and systems for the client.
- records. Records are logs of games being played in the clients.
- fixtures. Fixtures are things that extend the utility of the client, like modules.