

Captain Fenrose

Aide de Camp to the Marshall of Voprur. The Marshall, being the head of the King's armies, Fenrose is a somewhat important part of the King's court. He arrived in Greylin the King having heard that The Inquisition was about to make a raid on a hideout of a cult of demon worshippers. Fenrose is technically a Viscount, but the position has no actual holdings, and exists to bestow a man like Fenrose with noble rank befitting one in his position in the King's court.
