Obscurity: investing

When you are asked to invest fortune in the game, you smile and place the coin into a stack. This stack is attached to the thing in which you invested, such as a Tale or Achievement. This stack is known as invested fortune. The next break in play will allow you make one roll for invested fortune, and possibly siphon some off of it. See the break rules for how this works. If all the invested fortune in something is lost it causes a moment. The other ways you can use fortune are to surrender and invest it.
