Obscurity: spending

When you are asked to spend fortune in the game, you sigh and place the coin into a stack in front of you. This stack is known as expended fortune. The next break in play will allow you to regain some or all of it, depending on how much was expended. See the break rules for how this works. If you expend all your fortune, you don't face a crisis but you do have an moment. The other ways you can use fortune are to surrender and invest it.
