SCENE

<Mike_Holmes> Ogurun can be seen inside his shop from the street, working with a microscope. Nobody else is in the shop.
<Mike_Holmes> His flourescent lights flicker badly.
»» Mike_Holmes is now known as Ariel
<Ariel> "Looks like he's alone," Ariel says over Inga's earpiece. "Time to give him a talking too, Inga."
<&Narrator_JP> Ogurun adjusts the lens of his microscope. He makes some notes on a clearly not-stock omni, a little gem on a bracelet gracing his wrist.
»» ~Inga dons her 'elvish shield', disappearing from view.
<&Narrator_JP> His omni has some serious protection on it, just glancing over the wireless sig it has on the wire.
<&Narrator_JP> Is that a link? Is he now trying to open a call channel on the wire? Perhaps… Ogurun looks pale and rubs his eyes.
»» ~Inga walks into the store, announcing, "You've been poking around where you shouldn't, Ogurun… Again."
<&Narrator_JP> Orugun jumps up, not sure what is going on, he didn't hear anyone come in… "What! Who… are you?" There is obvious panic in his voice. Was he hacked?
<&Narrator_JP> A call from your supervisor comes in via a secure channel on your omnis (Inga and Ariel) <Mission status? We just discovered a link attempt from Ogurun's omni and blocked it, tracing now.>
<~Inga> "That wasn't a wise move, Orugun."
<Ariel> <Contact just initiated,> Ariel responds.
<&Narrator_JP> Ogurun: "What? WHAT DID I DO?"
<~Inga> "Does the 'K13 inversion' mean anything to you?"
<&Narrator_JP> Orugun: "How do you know that! You bet stop this hacking now!"

<~Inga> "No, You stop your hacking."

<Ariel> <You've already got him on the ropes, Inga,> says Ariel. <Let him know he'd better hand over all his records on this. THEN we can get down to the interesting part… where he GOT the information.>

<&Narrator_JP> Orugun: looks to the back of the shop and then back around widely "I have protection!"

<~Inga> "

<~Inga> "Do you think we'd have made it this far if your 'protection' was any good?"

»» ~Inga casually breaks the dish under the microscope.

<&Narrator_JP> Ogurun: "YOU ARE ACTUALLY HERE!" He moves to run, and triggers some kind of ShadowLink signal, all directions and short-range.

<&Narrator_JP> Ariel who is monitoring everything, can detect a powerup in the backroom of the shop. Its a crawler model Think Tank, specific model unknown.

<~Inga> "Your Think Tank isn't going to help you this time, Ogurun."

<Ariel> Ariel forwards the specs and location to Inga, just in case.

<&Narrator_JP> Ogurun runs for the door, scrambling over displays of modified skin and eyes.

»» ~Inga moves to stop Ogurun.

<&Narrator_JP> So I think the conflict here is to: Get Ogurun and get out? or what is Inga going to do?

<~Inga> With an alacrity borne of lightwire, Inga moves almost inhumanly. Her Elfin Cloak burns out as she intervenes, keeping Ogurun from escaping.
