Careers

- Childhood: Big Sky Country Nightmare
 - Grew up in a rigid, tough home run by his dad, a retired professional killer out in big sky country. His family escaped the gangs because they were all scared of his dad, and so was he and his brother. He eventually escaped early because of his good grades and went into criminal law.
- School: Criminal Law
 - Quickly earned a reputation as “Mr. Perfect” from his test scores and also “Snow White” because of his crazy moral compass.
- Career: FBI Errand Boy
 - Corrupt officials quickly noticed his moral compass and tried to get him to quit by making him into a simple “errand boy”, where he assisted agents in the office and vary rarely in the field.
- Career: FBI Analyst
 - Finally he proved his worth enough to get an analyst position at the office, but a debacle involving office workers scamming hours and him blowing the whistle got him nearly fired and instead transferred.
- Career: DEA Field Agent
 - Realized that his career was saved by a corrupt benefactor with sway over the government, and now he owes that person a favor. Not happy at all. Outbursts lead him to be transferred to another team.
- Career: DEA Field Agent

- Finally settled down and working the case, trying to do what he can to build a case against the corruption inside privately.
